TECHNOCRACY

Essay information on Technocracy design and how it is portrayed on Wikipedia

Technocracy - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia - View history - Discussion

Technocracy movement - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia - View history - Discussion

Howard Scott - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia - View history - Discussion

Price System analysis by TechnocracyTechnateOrg November 2011

The Technocracy technate design information related articles from Wikipedia the online encyclopedia are controlled by a faction of several editors that have eliminated much of the balanced information and colored the articles also to imply that the Technocracy Inc. group was or is a fascist organization... but technocrats never were that and are not that now... the talk page from the Technocracy movement article on Wikipedia
Talk:Technocracy movement - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Official information on the stance of the Technocracy design and political movements: Who Is A Technocrat - Wilton Ivie

Also, some background on the history of Technocracy ideas by the founder of the movement Howard Scott on Youtube, recorded interviews Howard Scott Interviewed by Radcliff Student - Origins of Technical Alliance & Technocracy - (1962) - YouTube and Howard Scott Interviewed by William A. Swanberg - Theodore Dreiser & Technocracy's origins - (1962) - YouTube

and Technocracy: Howard Scott (1958) Q&A Detroit + Canadian membership meeting - YouTube

also, a written Q & A format of Howard Scott answering some questions on the origin and purpose of the Technocracy information Howard Scott - History and Purpose of Technocracy TNAT info.

The first published document by Technocracy Incorporated Technocracy Incorporated First Printing

TECHNOCRACY INCORPORATED PUBLICATION ARCHIVE

Information was posted here Wikipedia:Village pump (miscellaneous) - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia on Wikipedia, to inform the site of what was going on in regard of the manipulation and non neutral presentation by the clique of editors involved.
No one there cared and the Technocracy Incorporated article on Wikipedia was gotten rid of (basically deleted into another information article), Technocracy movement - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia) by those several editors.

Who controls en.Wikipedia behind the scenes, what groups? Who Controls Wikipedia? Price System analysis. : TechnocracyTechnate.org

The article above lists the special interest money that Wikipedia, despite their relentless asking for donations from the public, is receiving from a variety of major political and belief system organizations, so called foundations with political agendas.

An editing cartel on Wikipedia eliminated the Technocracy Incorporated article which they said they did by 'consensus', that is, three people eliminating an article about the most significant social movement of the 1930's in Canada and the U.S.
This is the group below.
User talk:Johnfos - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia
User talk:Epipelagic - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia
User talk:Lawrencekhoo - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Relying on Wikipedia for any neutral or accurate information on Technocracy design is not suggested since the articles connected with that information are controlled by users listed above who are either people like the mainstream Keynesian economist Lawrence Khoo or connected (or think they are), to energy and political policy like Beagle and Johnphos who use ''Wikipedia'' names to edit with and have an ax to grind against presenting neutral information concerning the subject of the technate design for North America because they believe for what ever reason that the current political Price System is preferable in dealing with societies issues.

For people interested in more information on the subject of Technocracy and the technate design these files are from the original group and present well rounded accurate information.

WHO'S WHO OF TECHNOCRACY: SCOTT?, VEBLEN?, HUBBERT? - Walter Fryers
http://www.technocracy-think-tank.org/founders%20names.htm

Defining "Technocracy" - Walter Fryers
http://www.vcn.bc.ca/~monad1/technocracy%20defined.htm

Meanderings Into Obfuscation - Lois M. Scheel (and article essay about Technocracy design and dictionary definitions among other things) http://web.archive.org/web/19990915023549/http://www.technocracy.org/periodicals/nwtechnocrat/319/scheel.html

Who Controls Wikipedia? Price System analysis.

A copy of this file here En.Wikipedia Encyclopedia And The Technocracy Entries